Solar Skies Mfg., LLC Continues Commitment to Customer Satisfaction and Safety

Solar Skies Mfg., a leading manufacturer of solar thermal collectors, has received the CSA (Canadian Standard Association) certification mark. The CSA mark shows that an authorized testing laboratory has evaluated the Solar Skies collectors and has granted certification for meeting the recognized standards for safety and performance.

In addition to the CSA certification, Solar Skies continues their commitment to providing the industry with top quality solar collectors with other nationally recognized certifications such as SRCC (Solar Rating and Certification Corp.), IAPMO R & T (International Assoc. of Plumbing & Mechanical Officials), USEC (Uniform Solar Energy Code) and Hawaiian Electric.

Solar Skies Mfg. manufactures solar thermal collectors for both residential and commercial use. The SRCC rated collectors are offered in a multiple of series and a wide range of sizes.
